Christmas Is Glorified As You Let Your Lights Shine

Only two days are left to enter the annual Christmas Home Decoration and Lighting contest. Jack Slaughter, President of The Cameron Junior Chamber of Commerce is urging all of the folks who live in Cameron and in Cameron proper to begin work on their plans for home decorations and call The Chamber of Commerce office (101) at least not later than December 17, and make their entry. It doesn't cost a thing to enter the contest.

Many unusual displays are being planned that will not cost the decorator anything but effort. Things around the home like Cedar, Holly, and other greenery can be used for effective displays. How much you spend on your decorations will have no bearing on your chances to win. Put your creative instinct to work!! Lights placed at vantage points about the display and on your yard will have a wonderful effect. Remember, Arrangement, Originality, Lighting and Color will be the deciding factors.

Lights can do much towards creating an illusion of something that is not really there and will do everything towards making your display most effective.

Judges have been invited from out-of-town. Sponsors do not even know the names of the judges, or, what firms they represent yet. The judges won't even know the names of the entrants. They will judge the displays entirely by numbers on their judging sheets.

CYO Travels To Bremond Sunday For Recollections

There were 27 members present at the regular Catholic Youth Organization meeting Wednesday, December 7. In the absence of the president, secretary Evelyn Vybral acted as chairman.

Plans were made for Sunday when the group will journey to Bremond for a Day of Recollection held each year during Advent.

The December social committee consisting of James Hollas, Rita Pat and Charles Moraw reported that the social would be held on December 21, upon which the group will tour the town caroling.

Plans were discussed about having a volleyball and basketball team and entering them in the tournament held later.

A religious discussion was given after the business meeting.

There will be no skating parties during Advent.

Sunday, December 11, the Cameron Youth Organization accompanied by Marak CYO journeyed to Bremond where they attended a day of recollection. The recollection opened at 11:00 a.m. with a prayer by Rev. Keith of San Antonio and closed with Benediction at 4:30 p.m.

The group enjoyed the recollection and said, "This was a well spent day."

A CHRISTMAS APPEAL

Christmas is a time when loved ones try to get together, and this is at it should be. However, Christmas comes on Sunday this year, and it is exceedingly fitting that we should commemorate the birth of our Lord when His birthday falls on Sunday. When families get together it is too easy for them to forget the worship of the Lord in His house. But what a wonderful opportunity we have this year to worship together on Christmas.

We, the undersigned members of the Cameron Ministerial Association, make a special appeal, in the name of the Lord, to our respective church members that they attend services of worship on Christmas day wherever they find themselves. We further urge you to bring those who will be visiting you here in Cameron with you to Church on Christmas day. We believe you will receive some of God's choice blessings when you take this opportunity to worship Him on the birthday of His Son.

Yours in Christ,

March Of Dimes Aided 19 Milam Victims In '55

By Martha Kahler
Over $4,746 has been spent helping 19 polio victims in Milam County, according to the annual Patient Care report of the Milam County Chapter of National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The local patient care program has helped stricken children and adults in nine communities of the county, according to Jack W. Tumlinson, county chapter chairman. Communities where patients received aid are Cameron, Buckholts, Branchville, Gause, Rockdale, Burlington, Milano, Ad Hall and Sharp.

The 1955 Milam County March of Dimes netted $9,735.71, one-half of which was sent to the national headquarters of the NFIP. Money sent to national headquarters is used for research, education, polio prevention, medical department services, services to chapters, public information, administration and maintaining state offices.

The amount retained for the patient care program in Milam County was $4918. Of this amount, $423.80 went for braces, $1311.50, medical services; $2984.75, hospital care; $16.50, drugs, and $10 to ambulance.

Of the 19 receiving financial help, eight received their first financial aid in 1955. Eleven have been helped in previous years.

Fire Envelopes Truck And Driver In Hoyte Accident Monday Morning

Fire trucks called out at 1:30 a.m. Monday went to the Hoyte Community on Highway 36 to a fire developing from an accident which took the life of a Lubbock truck driver.

A maize filled trailer truck driven by Alick Henry Cline 42, of Lubbock, turned completely over and burned. Cline's body was burned beyond recognition and officers covering the mishap had to trace his identity through means of a small metal identification tag.

The body was taken to the Marek-Burns Funeral Home and from there transported by air to Lubbock Monday morning.

If another vehicle was involved in forcing the truck off the road it could not be determined by officers. There were no witnesses to be found. Sheriff Black could only surmise the possibility that the driver may have gone to sleep at the wheel momentarily and got off onto the soft shoulder.

The Simmonds Trucking Company of Lubbock, owners of the burned truck contacted the Jesse Kirk Grain Company here to load the spilled grain and to take it to its destination in Houston.

Farmers Earning $400 Pay Social Security For '55

Self-employed farmers will, for the first time in 1955, pay social security tax on their farm income for 1955 according to James B. Marley, manager of the Austin social security office. If you are self-employed farmer and have earnings to $400 or more a year, you must file a report of your self-employment farm income at the same time you file your income tax return.

The social security tax is 3 percent of the self-employed farmer's earnings, up to a total of $4,200 in earnings. If you work, or have other types of self-employment income, earnings from these sources may be combined with your farm earnings up to a combined total of $4,200.

The fact that you own a farm does not automatically make you a self-employed farmer under the Social Security law. To be self-employed, you must actually engage in the operation of a farm, either alone, or in partnership with someone else.

The rental or lease of a farm to someone else is not self-employment for social security purposes, and income from such sources is not considered farm income even though it is in the form of crops or cash. Such income is considered rental from real estate and is excluded from earnings that count for social security purposes.

— An Editorial —

By JAMES E. "BO" PATTERSON

Q. When is a bond issue NOT a bond issue? Ans.: When the real issue is greater, by far, than the bonds which must be floated to pay for answering that issue squarely.

Q. What ISSUE can be worth more than MY MONEY?

Ans.: States Rights.

Q. WHAT? What has the building of a new school in Cameron got to do with States Rights? Somebody must be trying to drag in a red herring—or they're nuts.

Ans.: W. T. Hanes, just back from Washington and the White-house School conference, reports that TODAY — ALREADY Federal grants-in-aid are going out to school districts which will take a "Pauper's Oath" and the prime requisite in the grant is NO SEGREGATION. Yes Federal aid means Federal Control and if that doesn't deny STATES RIGHTS then "Bar the door Katy" —

On Tuesday December 20 you are being offered the opportunity to vote FOR or AGAINST an issue — any way you want to look at it. As a Bond Issue it means that you are voting either for or against the payment of from one to two cents per day for the next thirty years for an addition to the Independent School System for a structure of which you can be proud. It is true you will not be voting for or against SEGREGATION — as a matter of cold, hard fact you may be voting for a school to which any child in the school district might ultimately attend. Another hard fact is that the Frogtown area sorely needs a new building for the present O. J. Thomas school is in a sad state and in need of a first class tearing down job. Getting even colder and harder with the facts if this has to be done then what? Where else but Ben Milam, Ada Henderson and Yoe is there to put the children now in that school?

To explain that 1 to 2 cents per day figure; that is based on what the AVERAGE taxpayer puts in the "Kitty". If you pay school taxes on $3,000 then your tax, at a $1.50 per thousand dollars, as against the $1.35 now paid, will cost you $4.50 more per year. 450 cents for 365 days is just slightly over 1 cent per day. Add to or subtract from that figure to suit your case and you will have your answer.

A paragraph from a letter to Hilliard Thomas, co-chairman of the Citizens Committee which proposed the new construction to the school board we quote:

"It is contemplated that the bonds will mature over a period of 1 to 30 years. This length of maturity is required because of a tax rate of 50c assuming 90 percent collection and based on your valuation of $7,282,902, will produce $32,773. This amount is sufficient to pay annual principal and interest requirements on your present debt plus requirements on your proposed issue."

This letter comes from the School Board's Fiscal Agent John W. Brandenberger with the J. Marvin Moreland & Co. Houston and Galveston.

He adds: "The additional 15c tax rate will be sufficient to support the new bond issue. NO ACROSS THE BOARD increase in valuation has been considered. The tax increase is essential however. Therefore, it is suggested that voters be urged to approve all three propositions if they favor the bond issue."

An advertisement, subscribed by substantial, leading citizens appearing elsewhere in this edition tells that it is the EXPRESSED OPINION of all members of both segments of the Citizens Committee that: The colored children would prefer to attend school on the O. J. Thomas campus; and that the white children prefer to continue to attend the present white schools.

With this last thought in mind and with the knowledge that the present O. J. Thomas structure is doomed for early abandonment, either by choice of the electorate or by compulsion from the Federal Government to adequately provide for those children and in the further recognition that there is not enough room on the Yoe Campus for another building OR FOR MORE STUDENTS, whoever they may be, then CHAOS is the only alternative to a sensitive VOTE FOR THE PROPOSITIONS ON THE BALLOT.

Hence we conclude BONDS are not the issue.

Campus Carnival Crowns Cutie

By Emory C. Camp

Tuesday, December 2, was a busy day on the Yoe High campus. It was the day for the all school carnival. School was dismissed around two o'clock and the students enjoyed the many booth and shows until 3:45.

The doors of the gym were opened promptly at 6:30 and a large crowd attended the carnival. The biggest attraction at the carnival was the stage shows presented by the various classes. The Freshmen variety show was entitled "The Bobby-Sox Flappers" while the Sophomores gave a musical show entitled "The Sophomore Starlighters." The Junior minstrel was called "Boogie Attic" and the Seniors presented acts from all parts of the world in their "Worldwide Rock and Roll."

The total amount of money taken in at the carnival was $769.00. The Seniors came out on top with $173.06 with the Freshmen trailing right behind them with $163.12, the Juniors were given credit for $145.56 while the Sophomores had $103.20 to add to the final sum. The Ada Henderson and Ben Milam Schools turned in the remaining amount which added up to a very successful and entertaining carnival. A third of the money will go to the cafeteria fund and the remaining two-thirds will be divided between the three buildings for various activities such as the Interscholastic League, Citizenship trip, and other activities. The highlight of the carnival was the long-awaited coronation. Each year the various classes select a queen candidate and try to make their candidate queen through the selling of football tickets, the best float in the homecoming parade and other school activities. This year the Seniors captured first place and Pat Moraw became queen of Yoe High School. Her escort was Don Howard. Sharon Laywell was crowned queen of Ada Henderson and Carol Ann Wilson was queen of Ben Milam.

Mrs. Robinson, a former Buckholts resident has been the recipient of several courtesies since her arrival two weeks ago.

Gause Road; H.D. Club Groups Call On County Dads

Commissioners Court had a full house Monday morning with at least three groups present when the doors swung open.

Leading delegation was a group of citizens from Gause, led by "Dixie" Walker contending for the road construction so long past due from that outpost in Milam County to connect up with the improved road from Cameron to Hanover.

The ten member committee headed by Walker contended that District Engineer Blair had informed them earlier that the time to get that approximately six miles of almost impassable road "Set out" by the Commissioners court was after the first leg was completed from Cameron to Hanover and this was completed in the summer of '55 said Walker.

Judge Smith was spokesman for the County and advised the group in essence, that patience and persistence on their part would win out in the end. He told them how the vastly greater cost in road building in that part of the county stemming from the great number of creeks, ravines and the like that needed to be bridged, was one reason the state had seen fit to allocate Milam County money for Farm to Market road elsewhere in the county. He said that construction there would run around $17,000 per mile as against one-third that amount elsewhere.

It was further pointed out that the road had been set out by the Commissioners Court twice and that it had been turned down by the State Highway department. Smith told of former contacts with the department in Austin and that he told them why their measuring stick of "traffic count" was no good in this case and that was because the road was practically impassable and hence was avoided.

Walker insisted that his group want the road set out a third time in compliance with the thinking of the district engineer so that his committee could then go directly to the state department in Austin. This point was argued down by the Judge as being premature and further that to set the road out a third time might antagonize the powers that be. He further discouraged the petitioners by enumerating the delays even should the project be approved, showing how more than a year could be consumed preparatory to beginning work on the road.

Knowing all the difficulties, pointed out by Judge Smith, apparently gave small relief to the anxious petitioners. They left the court room "convinced against their wills".

The Gause petitioners were Mrs. Thomas, J. T. Todd, Mrs. Cecil Butler, B. B. Rains W. L. Ditto, Ray Lewis, T. Clyde Wilson, Bill Gause, Dixie Walker and W. A. Bollinger.

Following the road plea was one eloquently presented by Milam Chairman of Home Demonstration Clubs Mrs. V. L. Angell.

Mrs. Angell, backed up by Mrs. T. R. Allen, Mrs. B. M. Charles, and Mrs. C. S. Raney furnished evidence aptly that other counties are making spacious quarters available for a Home Demonstration agent. The ladies, numbering more than 200 in Milam County are anxious to get a HD agent and without adequate quarters even those who might be available will not come here the ladies chairman pointed out. Before the ladies left the courthouse Sheriff Black showed them the entire third floor of the courthouse which is available and they chose the northeast room, adjoining the Grand Jury room, as one which the Judge promised would be decorated and made available to the ladies if they chose to accept it.

Before the ladies left the courtroom Judge Smith sounded them out as potential boosters for a bond issue which would make the adequate quarters for not only the HD agent but also all other agencies which are in leased buildings all over town.

Pictured above is the new Meadowbrook Baptist Church in Rockdale. Open House will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday, December, 18. The church was organized in August 1954 and the congregation recently moved into the new $80,000 structure. Dedication ceremonies will be held at the 11 o'clock services Sunday morning with Dr. R. R. Lloyd, district 15 missionary bringing the dedicatory message. Rev. A. L. Gatewood is pastor of the church. Max McClaren is minister of music. The church choir will present its first Christmas cantata, "The Child of Bethlehem" at 7:30 p.m. the same day. The public is extended a cordial invitation to attend any and all of these services.

Texas Draft Call Of 378 Scheduled For January

The January draft call for Texas asks for 378 men for the Army Lieutenant Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state director of Selective Service, announced Friday.

The figure is the state's share of a national call for 8,000 men for the Army. The Navy is asking for no men in January but will in February. The Texas quota for February is expected to be around 1,000 men.

All 137 Texas local boards will receive a share of the 378 quota for January. These local board quotas are now being figured and are scheduled to be mailed from State Selective Service headquarters around December 1.

The state director of Selective Service will ask draft boards for approximately 3,000 men for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in January. Quotas for local boards are scheduled to be mailed around December 1.

Not all local boards will receive quotas for the pre-induction examinations. Quotas will be sent to boards that "have the bulk of the older men," the state draft director said.

The January call for induction compares with a December quota of 873 and a November call of 1,006. No pre-induction examinations are scheduled in December. A total of 2,500 was scheduled for November examination.

The January quota will be filled with men who are 21 years of age or older on January 1, 1956, with the exception of delinquents and volunteers, who may be younger.

Proposed Selective Service regulations altering liability for military service and having effect on family status have not been re-headquarters and are not in official effect.

Hawn stated that all superintendents of schools in the East Texas area have been notified of details regarding the contest.

The winner from each high school will be qualified to enter a county-wide contest. All county winners will then enter a semi-final regional competition finals will be held during the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Greenville April 20, 1956.

First winner will receive the Delta Drilling Company $1,000 scholarship. The other awards are also in the form of scholarships and are valued at $500 and $250.

Texas Research Foundation Aids Farm Economy

Oxshier Smith, regional chairman of the Texas Research Foundation at Renner, announced the appointment of Buster Brown, Temple business man and civic leader, as Temple chairman for the campaign to raise funds to support the work of the foundation. "The purpose of this appeal," Mr. Smith said is to raise operating funds for the Foundation for the next five years. A goal of $1,500,000 has been set and this is expected to be raised from large sections of North, East, and Central Texas.

"Texas Research Foundation is making a major contribution in strengthening the agricultural economy of Texas and within its 12 year lifetime, the Foundation has become one of the outstanding agricultural research organizations in the country," Smith said.

Farm Loan Program Extended Thru 1956 Crop Year By F.H.A.

Farmers Home Administration The Farmers Home Administration emergency loan program has been extended in Texas for the 1956 crop year, according to Walter T. McKay, the agency's State Director.

McKay stated that authorization for the extension was given by Secretary of Agriculture Benson in keeping with the Department of Agriculture's policy of continuing emergency assistance measures where necessary.

Under the extension of the program, loans will be made through December 31, 1956. Loans may be made in all counties in the State except in the 57 west Texas counties designed on September 15, 1955, for the Great Plains Special Credit Program.

During the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1955, emergency loans totaling more than $33,000,000 were made to Texas farmers and ranchers. Considering the prolonged drought conditions, collections on these loans are very good, McKay stated.

Emergency loans are made in areas where the Secretary of Agriculture finds that there is a need for credit that is not available from other sources. The need may be due to the damage done by a natural disaster, such as drought, flood or hurricane, or to economic reasons.

Taylor Soil Conservation News

The following range talk has a very definite meaning: "Deferred grazing"; "Rotation grazing"; and "proper use"; "graze half and leave half"; "it takes grass to make grass"; "supplemental winter summer grazing". I would pick the statement that it takes grass to make grass because that is a fact. Experiments have proved that plants get 90-95 per cent of their food from the air and sunshine. Water and fertilizer is important in the production of grass. However, there is an area of what would be excellent condition class pasture on the right of the road located just South of the railroad. Little bluestem is the principal grass with a few invaders, the principal one is a weed called woolly white weed.

This area developed under natural conditions during the past 10-12 years. There has been no cultivation, no grazing, no haying, fertilizing etc. This area is composed of deep sand.

There is another similar area road to Austin. The brush was pushed off this area about 5 years ago and the little bluestem took over. Small brush is coming back and if not controlled, will grow up and shade out the grass. Jack Crump, John Parmelee, Jess Alford, J.M. Crump, Fritz Doss, R. M. Beard, and C.L. Tanner are a few of the Cooperators of the Taylor District that have developed one or more pastures with a combination of range practices.

The principal practice is leaving enough of the grass to furnish leaves to take food from the sun and the air and to leave enough litter on the ground to keep the rain from running off.

Supplemental grazing is a many fold conservation practice. First, it provides a cover for the land during the winter or summer when the land would otherwise be bare. This cover helps to store up water and the leaves that do get back to the ground return much more in the form of plant element that it drew from the air, sun, and the ground and rain. Supplemental grazing gives 1-3 months up to 6 months grazing which gives considerable rest to the permanent

Applications for emergency loans are made at the County Supervisor's Office located in the Henderson Building in Cameron. The local county Farmers Home Administration Committee, composed of Frank J. Jahn, Chairman A. Ralph Avrett, and James A. Mann, determines the eligibility of applicants for these emergency loans.

Supplemental Grazing on needle grass pastures or on poor bermuda grass pastures can be had by fertilizing and planting small grain or Italian grass with vetch or clover. Where clover is adapted, three or four years of a legume and small grain will make a good Bermuda grass pasture on any of the sandy land. Fertilizer is the chief factor in making bermuda pasture. Willie Boyd, in the Gauy Hill community, changed a poor Bermuda pasture to an excellent Bermuda pasture by only fertilizing it. Oswald Moerbe, chieled about 10 acres of thin black land hillside pasture, applied 200 pounds of 20 per cent phosphate and planted hubam. He had good grazing from the hubam and increased the growth of Bermuda by an estimated 300 per cent.

The proper management of a crop residue seems to be more important than ever before as a soil conservation practice. M. J. pastures. Usually, supplemental grazing provides green feed for live stock when they are in need of it. Oats and vetch or small grain and any legume can be used for short periods of 1-3 months for green grazing and then utilized later for hay, seed or for litter to improve the soil. Fritz Doss, Pete Keen, A.W. Butts, C.L. Tanner and many others have tested as much as 100 bales of hay from oats and a legume last year. The hay, gain when harvested and the crop following making of hay has paid off. In some instances the hay and grazing was worth as much as where no hay was grown. The turf of the oats and legumes helped to keep down blowing. Oats grazed until March 1 and later harvested made 35-40 bushels per acre.

by planting time in the spring. His objective is to protect the surface from the wind, water and sun and to slowly turn it back to the land to increase the organic content, and feed the living organisms that are necessary to keep the land productive.

Clyde Hensley is following nearly the same procedure, except that he is adding nitrogen to give a better balance of plant food where so much tonnage of residue is turned back to the soil.

New Light on an Old Subject

Mr. Evans from the Lighting Company gave an interesting talk at the Community Hall last night — on how farmers can cut electric bills. For those who missed it, here's a short recap.

Don't try to light up the cobwebs in the rafters. Use a reflector and a smaller bulb will probably do the job. Too many farmers use naked bulbs that waste 50% of the light.

Try using moveable projector bulbs that beam light the way a searchlight does. A couple of these "spots" will often give you better illumination than a gang of juice-wasting overhead lamps.

From where I sit, it's amazing how often we misuse the things we have... like electricity. We also make a mistake if we misuse our right of personal choice—about which candidate to vote for, say, or whether beer or coffee makes the ideal mealtime drink—by trying to force our opinions on others. Respect for the other fellow's point of view should be our "guiding light."

Dog's Life

A dog's life isn't what it used to be. Neither is a cat's.

Household pets these days are having the time of their evolutionary lives. At last count there were more than 20 million dogs in the United States — and science and industry are catering to their needs.

Today's dogs eat nutritionally-balanced rations and play with scientifically-designed toys. Photographers specialize in puppy portraits and canine beauty experts can primp up a backyard scavenger to look like a prize-winning prima donna.

Dogs and cats are social climbers too. Today they're welcomed in many places where they formerly were forbidden to set paw. One directory lists over 4,000 hotels and motels that make special provisions for dogs, so you don't have to leave Fido home when you take a trip any more.

A few precautions are in order if you plan to motor with a dog. In one of his stories, James Thurber describes a show-dog that suffered from "a kind of Freudian car sickness" on his way to every performance. Dogs do suffer from motion sickness just as we do. The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals suggests that several short rides can help get the dog used to the car's motion.

To prevent Fido from getting carsick you can buy Bonamine — the long-lasting motion sickness tablets — at any drug store. It will ward off an unpleasant experience. Don't overfeed a dog in hot climates, and be sure he gets plenty of water. Exercise is important, so on long trips let the dog out of the car whenever you stop.

A dog often likes to ride with his head out the window. Don't let him. It could lead to a serious eye injury or other accident.

With a little care and attention, your pet doesn't have to be confined to the doghouse vicinity any more. He can travel as far and wide as you do.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Helping Hands

It's often claimed that the hand is quicker than the eye. Our manual swiftness probably accounts in part for the fact that most of us reach old age without some permanent hand injury.

Since many of us depend heavily on our hands for a livelihood, even a minor injury can be serious. Despite modern safety measures, one out of every four industrial accidents involves the hand.

Regardless of the cause, all hand injuries should be given immediate attention. Prompt care is the key factor in preventing permanent disability.

Everyone should be taught first aid for hand injuries. Dr. Robert H. Kennedy stresses in the New York State Journal of Medicine. He says that protection is the all-important consideration — protection from infection, from added injury, and from future disability.

In the pre-antibiotic era, even relatively slight hand injuries sometimes led to mutilating surgery, amputation, and even death. Doctors still must resort to surgery for some hand injuries. But antibiotics protect the entire body against infection and ward off serious complications that may follow even a minor hand cut. Dr. Kennedy, for example, uses antibiotics such as Terramycin and Tetracycline to prevent infection complications when treating hand injuries.

Dr. Kennedy offers these first aid rules for hand injuries:

Cover the injured area with a sterile dressing, if available, or with the cleanest material at hand. No matter what, cover it. Do not apply antiseptic of any kind to the wound. Bandage hand and separate each finger with gauze. Immobilize hand in position of rest. Contact a physician.

Cooperators Giving Grasses A Chance In Drouthy Times

In spite of several years drouth in this area, proper pasture management has brought about an improved condition of the ranges on many soil conservation district cooperators. Dusek Brothers have deferred grazing on their native pastures during the summer season for the past three years. This has given all of the native summer grasses a chance to seed and also to extend the root systems deeper into the soil. Side oats grama, little bluestem and other climax grasses are on the increase and all vegetation is more dense and vigorous. Wallace Culpepper has deferred grazing on a lot of his sandy land pastures. Since little bluestem is the best adapted grass it is coming back to a dense and vigorous stand. Roy Law is improving his pasture by stocking so that about one-half of the grass seeds each year.

TUESDAY December 20th AT THE Yoe Gymnasium

TO ALL PARENTS, SCHOOL PATRONS, AND CITIZENS RESIDING IN THE CAMERON INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT

Immediately after the Supreme Court abolished segregation in the schools of Texas, The Trustees of the Cameron Independent School District took steps to implement this decision.

Committees of both white and colored business men and women were organized. These groups after making a thorough study of the financial condition of the school system and after inspecting the school properties, met with the school trustees.

It was the expressed opinion of all members of these groups that the colored children would prefer to attend school on the O. J. Thomas campus; and that the white children would prefer to continue to attend the present white schools.

It was recommended to the trustees that new adequate school facilities be constructed on the campus of the O. J. Thomas School. It was recognized that such construction would mean the expenditure of monies which could be obtained only by the issuance of bonds and the levying of a tax to pay for the bonds.

The Trustees of the Cameron Independent School District have approved plans for the construction of the buildings recommended. It has been determined that $225,000.00 will be necessary to pay the cost of this school addition. It will take an increase of fifteen cents (.15) on each one hundred dollars ($100.00) valuation to pay for these bonds in thirty years. This means that property valued at $3,000.00 will have an increase in taxes of 4.50. Attention is called to the fact that the financing of this bond issue is based on the PRESENT VALUATION. Your School Board has gone on record as opposing any 'across the board' increase in valuation. Your present school tax is $1.35 per one hundred valuation.

This plan has met with the unanimous approval of both white and colored groups who have studied the problem of complying with the law abolishing segregation. This plan, it is believed, will be the solution, satisfactory to all, to segregation in the Cameron School District.

If you are in sympathy with this method of solving segregation in CAMERON, You will vote for these three propositions which appear on the ballot.

1. To assess and collect a total tax of $1.50.
2. To assume bonded indebtedness of Cameron Independent School District.
3. For the issuance of $225,000 bonds

Little River-San Gabriel

Coastal Bermuda grass looks promising over the eastern half of the Little River-San Gabriel Soil Conservation District. This is the observation made by Soil Conservation Service personnel stationed in Bartlett, Texas based on the growth performance of this grass on a number of cooperating farms.

Small plots of this grass have been growing within the district area for five to six years, they say, in connection with pastures and waterways. Larger plantings of the grass have been made this past year with fairly wide distribution. In all instances the Coastal Bermuda grass has indicated an adaptability similar to common Bermuda. Of ranker growth nature, Coastal reflects a more vigorous growth and in all instances observed, has been favored by all classes of livestock in their grazing habits when both the common and Coastal are grazed under the same management and on the same soil.

Not to be confused with any thing resembling a wonder grass, they say, it definitely appears promising as a better grass than our common or local strains of Bermuda Grass on all sites suited to Bermuda growth. Tonnage produced will be directly associated with the fertility of the soils practices followed in the utilization of the grass.

To date all sources of planting material are outside this immediate area; however, local sources are being developed with the possibility that small amounts may be available this coming spring. The grass is propagated over through the setting of plant material.

Miss Chang, Korean M.H. Baylor Student Of Home Economics

A duty to study home economics to help the women of her country has brought Chung Ai Chang from Ewha Women's university in Korea to Mary Hardin-Baylor college in Belton, Texas.

Miss Chang left her home on Nov. 19 and arrived by plane in Belton Nov. 21. She plans to major in home economics at the 110-year old women's college here, so that she will be able to help "revise the lives of Korean women and make it possible for them to have enough time to think of peace on earth."

Miss Chang was graduated from Masan Girls' High School, Masan, Korea, with honors in March, 1954 and attended Ewha Women's university, a Methodist school and the only mission school for girls in Korea. She has completed her freshman year there, having won first place in the entrance examination.

She told Dr. Arthur K. Tyson, Mary Hardin-Baylor's president, that "the women in Korea, my mother, sister and others, are bound at home, especially in the kitchen, working without a rest, and in consequence, they have no opportunity to talk and think of our country's condition in the world."

Since "scientific equipment in the home does not affect Korean women yet, though their economy will not allow them to make the best of such inventions yet," Miss Chang hopes to take ideas and methods back to Korea to help "Liberate" the women.

Soil, Water Improvement Loans Authorized By FHA Says Wright

Farmers Home Administration is authorized to make loans to farmers for soil and water improvement practices, Roy M. Wright, County Supervisor, told a gathering of agricultural leaders today.

The practices for which soil and water loans are made must be in line with Soil Conservation Service and Extension Service recommendations, he pointed out.

"Part of the cost of facilities, improvements and practices planned may be earned by the farmer through participation in the ACP (Agricultural Conservation Program), Mr. Wright told the group gathered on the farm of John J. Gelner, 7 miles south of Cameron.

Mr. Wright and Wayne Mann, work unit conservationist for the SCS, used a chart of Mr. Gelner's farm to demonstrate the costs of a soil and water improvement program to point up what portion of the costs would be borne by the ACP and what the farmer could expect in the way of assistance from the Farmers Home Administration to put the program into effect.

Mr. Mann used eight permanent soil and water conservation practices to demonstrate the costs of such a program. He told the group it would cost an estimated $2086.00 to clear the land, seed the pasture, establish a grass waterway, construct diversion terrace, construct terraces, control brush, overseed pasture and construct a pond.

Alva Sanders, County Office Manager of ACS here, said that the ASC office could participate in the "soil building" program to the extent of $651.00, leaving some $1435.00 for the farmer to borrow from the Farmers Home Administration, or other sources.

Mr. Wright said that the funds used for Soil and Water loans will, for the most part be made by banks and other private lending institutions and be insured by the Government. The interest rate would be 4 1/2 percent, and the loan may be repaid in one to 20 years.

The meeting this afternoon was an outgrowth of the interest of farmers in "soil building" through water and soil conservation. A good representative group was in attendance at the meeting.

Gause, Texas
Editor Cameron Herald

Our road problem is urgent and I, as a lifelong citizen of Gause would like to call attention to the inconvenience that has and still exists due to the lack of a farm to market road via Hanover.

The problem, a major one to us and with consideration and effort on the part of Cameron merchants and the commissioner Court, could be taken care of.

In so many words, we need an extension on the good road from Cameron to Hanover to extend into Gause.

If we had this road it would enable us to market our produce at Cameron rather than transport and sell it elsewhere.

Since Cameron has all that we need in a marketing center why not put forth a good word and an effort to get the extension on this urgently needed road?

Lifeguard Design in the '56 Ford!

Lifeguard steering wheel has deep-center construction. Rim is mounted above recessed steering post . . . "cushions" your chest against impact in case of accident. New Lifeguard mirror "gives" on impact . . . resists shattering.

Lifeguard double-grip door locks help keep doors closed, even under impact. And if you stay inside the car in an accident, you're twice as safe! These safety door locks resist stress from two directions—instead of the usual one.

Optional nylon seat belts offer you 3-way security. They give your children more protection in case of sudden stops in everyday driving . . . they help keep passengers in their seats in the event of an accident and make driving far less tiring.

Optional Lifeguard padding on instrument panel and sun visors not only reduces possibility of injuries, but in many cases prevents them altogether! It's five times as shock absorbent as foam rubber. See all of Ford's safety features, soon.

The fine car at half the fine-car price!

Mrs. Stacy B. King Buried In LaMarque

By Mrs. Henry Dreyer
The death angels hovered over the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dreyer, Saturday November 5, 3:30 p.m. 1955. It took from their midst the loving and kind mother, Mrs. Stacy King, who passed on at the age of eighty-seven. She was the daughter of the late J. T. Bice of Burlington.

Many hearts were made sad when they realized that she was no more with them.

It is hard to give our loved ones up, but when they are willing and ready to go, and we know that rest and peace is theirs. We say God's will, not ours.

These few words express more of spirit than all pens can write. Mrs. King was a loveable and kind person to all who knew her. She was a devout christian, affiliated with the First Baptist Church at the age of seventeen, at Little River Church.

Mrs. King was taught in a private school in Burlington, by Mr. P. J. O'Neill.

At the age of twenty-two she married to John Henry King, known as Sam King. They lived on the Roundtree Ranch for a number of years.

At the time of Mr. King's death November 19, 1950, they resided in Texas City with their son and family Mr. E. T. King. They lived happily together for sixty years.

Oh, weep not for me she said, Tho the death damp has dimmed my eye, My Savior's hand is beneath my head, I do not fear to die.

I am going to my happy home. My earth work is done, And I hear my blessed Savior's call. Children follow me home.

The funeral was held Tuesday day November 8, 2 O'clock P.M. in Texas City.

Rev. Finis William of First Baptist Church of Texas City officiating. Pall Bearers were her grandson's Henry Ford Roberts, Victoria, Lonnie Fred Roberts, Houston, Charles Langford, Dickinson, Joe Langford, LaMarque, Billy Joe King, Texas City, Glen Edwards King, Texas City.

Mrs. King last words were goodbye.

SHOP IN CAMERON AND SAVE

It's often claimed that the hand is quicker than the eye. Our manual dexterity probably accounts in part for the fact that most of us reach old age without some permanent and injury.

Since many of us depend heavily on our hands for a livelihood, even a minor injury can be serious. Despite modern safety measures, one out of every four industrial accidents involves the hand. Regardless of the cause, all hand injuries should be given immediate attention. Prompt care is the key factor in preventing permanent disability.

Everyone should be taught first aid for hand injuries. Dr. Robert H. Kennedy stresses in the New York State Journal of Medicine. He says that protection is the all-important consideration — protection from infection, from added injury, and from future disability.

In the pre-antibiotic era, even relatively slight hand injuries sometimes led to mutilating surgery, amputation, and even death. Doctors still must resort to surgery for some bad hand injuries. But antibiotics protect the entire body against infection and ward off serious complications that may follow even a minor hand cut. Dr. Kennedy, for example, uses antibiotics such as Terramycin and Tetracycline to prevent infection complications when treating hand injuries.

Dr. Kennedy offers these first aid rules for hand injuries: Cover the injured area with a sterile dressing, if available, or with the cleanest material at hand. No matter what, cover it. Do not apply antiseptic of any kind to the wound. Bandage hand and separate each finger with gauze. Immobilize hand in position of rest. Contact a physician.

CROP Check For $29,000 Received As '56 Goal Set

Presentation of a $29,000 check, a report on an emergency seed shipment to Haiti, and adoption of 1956 goals and budget, were highlights of the November 29 meeting of the Texas CROP Committee which met in Austin.

At least 65,000 hungry youngsters in the Orient and Near East will receive two cups of milk each day throughout 1956 because of Texas generosity during the recent Halloween trick-or-treat project for CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program). This was announced by State CROP Treasurer C.W. Pfluger, Jr. who presented the check for $29,000 to the Rev. Albert W. Farmer, National CROP Director.

Mr. Pfluger stated that an additional check would be sent later when all reported offerings have 50,000 young people participated in the project with a total statewide expense of only $623.

A half carload of powdered whole milk (22,000 pounds) has been purchased at a cost of $7,480 for shipment to Korean hospitals and advanced cases of tuberculosis. Remaining funds from the Halloween drive are being transferred to Church World Service, parent body of CROP, for distribution of government-donated surplus non-fat milk.

The Texas Committee agreed to organization during 1956 of 80 Texas counties with a full-time West Texas supervisor and 16 district supervisors. It chose a goal of $200,000 and adopted a 1956 budget of $29,334.

Texas Director John Gillies reported that an emergency shipment of 100 barrels of seed rice and 30,000 pounds of seed maize, both contributed commodities of Texas farmers, left Texas for the storm-devastated Haiti on November 18. Gillies also stated that 20 Texas counties are now in the process of commodity canvasses with an expected 300 bales of cotton, five carloads of milo, and five carloads of rice. One carload is rice. One carload of rice is now available in Harris county and is scheduled to be shipped to Pakistan.

Seven denominations (congregational Christian, Disciples, the Episcopal, Evangelical and Reformed, Evangelical United Brethren, Methodist, and Presbyterian U.S.) were represented at the meeting in addition to the Texas CIO Council, United Church Women, and the Texas Christian Youth Council.

CROP is a community appeal of Church World Service with the cooperation of 35 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox Communions & the Texas Council of Churches.

Old Glory Should Fly Today Honoring Bill Of Rights Day

The Sarah McCalla Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution met Thursday, December 1, at 3:00 p.m. in the home of Mrs. J. C. Freeman of Maysfield. The Regent, Mrs. Henry Hefley, opened the meeting with the reading of the ritual, assisted by Mrs.

W. C. Gillis. Following the pledge of allegiance to the American Flag, the Treasurer, Mrs. Gillis, reported that she had sent five dollars to Tamassee School, Tamassee, South Carolina; to Kate Duncan Smith School, Grant Alabama; and to the Indian scholarship at the Teachers College, at Huntsville. She had also sent a contribution to the DAR maintenance fund for the DAR house in Austin and to the Texas DAR library.

Mrs. John Henderson gave some highlights from the Press Digest. She reported that Miss Gertrude S. Garraway, President General, National Society, DAR, is calling upon all State Societies to make a determined effort to have every state observe February as American History Month.

Mrs. Carraway is asking for another major effort to have American teachers, school children, public officials and pulpits alerted to the importance of American history. The birth month of Washington and Lincoln is a fitting time to place special emphasis upon the values bequeathed to all succeeding generations by the great leaders of the nation. This leads to better citizenship today.

Mrs. Henderson recalled that this year we celebrate the 164th anniversary of the ratification of our Bill of Rights. We hope, she said that on this special day, December 15, citizens everywhere will see that our United States Flag is displayed on all public buildings and homes.

A five minute national defense talk was made by Mrs. G. A. McDermott, National Defense Chairman.

Mrs. D. E. Corrie of Lott gave the program for the afternoon. She gave an outstanding paper on "The Role of the Church and the Home in the Education of Children".
